

By: Anthony Iaccarino, John Miller

10/17/08

New Face in The Sixth Grade Halls?.....

In case you haven't seen the new teacher in the sixth grade, we thought it would be interesting to interview her for our news paper article. Being a softball coach at Drexel we were able to Google her and find information about her coaching years. Our questions are: how is your new year going? Was this your first time teaching? Do you like this elementary school? What did you do before you were a teacher?

The answers to some these questions lie in this paragraph. Like, how is your new job going? She, answered that she loves her new job and its going very well. Also, do you like this elementary school? She, responded that she student taught in New York. These are just some of the questions we asked.

We asked her the other questions which were, do you like this elementary school? Her answer, was she love this school and she thinks it is huge, also and teachers are supportive like family. Another question was, what did you do before you were a teacher? She said, I was a softball coach at Drexel University.

So if you see this teacher in the halls of Mill Creek Elementary. Think of what her accomplishments she had. Like being a softball coach at Drexel, or being a great teacher at the greatest school ever Mill Creek Elementary.

